INSTITUTION OF EXCELLENCE

An institution accredited under the terms of Form B will have already demonstrated a continuous commitment to excellence. Its ongoing quality will be monitored and evidenced both externally and internally in a variety of ways. (Part I of the Accreditation Handbook identifies examples of the criteria used by the Adventist Accrediting Association (AAA) for deciding to accredit institutions under Form B.)

With this in mind, the AAA will focus its visit on the way the college/university operation and life are in harmony with institutional and Seventh-day Adventist mission and denominational Working Policy. Within these parameters, a leading institution of excellence will be defined as an institution that meets the following standards:

1. A clear sense of Seventh-day Adventist mission and identity, reflected in statements of philosophy, vision, mission, objectives, core values, and ethics; and evidenced in the life of the institution.
2. A coherent and vibrant spiritual life program, encapsulated in a spiritual master plan that widely involves and impacts the institution and its communities.
3. A coherent governance structure, organization, and administrative leadership that provide strong mission-driven direction to the institution.
4. A curriculum that meets the mission and objectives of the institution and church, preparing students for service in the church and in the broader society.
5. Faculty and staff personally supportive of the institutional mission, effective in their transmission of Seventh-day Adventist beliefs and biblical values in the classroom, along with administrative processes to ensure adequate faculty and staff development, and evaluation procedures that include mission-focused elements.
6. Elements of the educational setting, including finance, facilities, library, and student services, among others, support institutional mission and Adventist identity.
7. Pastoral and theological education with a curriculum that is of an equivalent standard to other tertiary institutions offering pastoral and theological education within the Seventh-day Adventist college/university sector, and that meets the mission and objectives of the institution and church, particularly in the preparation of students for denominational service.

These standards of excellence and their corresponding criteria for review will be used as the benchmarks for evaluation by AAA, and the basis for the institutional Self-Study.

INSTITUTIONAL SELF-STUDY FUNCTIONS

The development of an institutional Self-Study is a significant part of the accreditation process. It serves the following vital functions:

1. For an educational institution, it provides an opportunity for a formal review and evaluation of its mission, objectives, resources, and outcomes, and the relationships among them.
2. For the Adventist Accrediting Association evaluation team, it provides the detailed information that enables them to familiarize themselves with the institution and its direction, and draft relevant commendations and recommendations.
3. For the Adventist Accrediting Association and the institution, it reveals the strengths and weaknesses of the institution in relation to how well it meets the accreditation standards. Thus, the Self-Study indicates the areas where the institution must grow and improve, as a means of achieving or maintaining eligibility as an accredited institution.
4. For other colleges, universities, and accrediting bodies, it provides a mechanism with which to determine the value of the credits and degrees offered by the institution.

SELF-STUDY PROCESS

An institution is advised to start the Self-Study process as soon as it has received notification of the AAA visit. The Self-Study should be developed with wide input across the campus. A steering committee (and, if appropriate, subordinate task forces) should be appointed to prepare the document. The completed Self-Study shall be approved by the administrative committee of the institution and will be sent to the AAA liaison for the institution at least one month prior to the accreditation visit. The AAA liaison will distribute copies of the Self-Study to team members upon receiving the institutional report.

The Self-Study should demonstrate accomplishment of each benchmark and should provide a reflective analysis and evaluation of institutional processes. The AAA expects to find an institution that is self-reflective and proactive in development of its spiritual mission and identity.

SELF-STUDY INSTRUMENT

There will be three sections to a Form B Self-Study.

Self-Study Section A

Section A of the Self-Study will respond to the recommendations from the latest regular or interim accreditation visit, with any additional recommendations from a focused visit.

The institution will identify:

1. Each item that has been fully implemented, including how the implementation was accomplished and evidences of its fulfillment.

2. Each item that has not been fully implemented and the reason for non-compliance.

In their response to Section A, the team will consider the percentage of recommendations that have been met, if there is clear evidence that they have been met, and if the reasons for not meeting recommendations are acceptable.

Self-Study Section B

Section B of the Self-Study will provide evidence in response to the seven standards with corresponding Criteria for Review (CFRs) identified by AAA as indicators of excellence in Form B institutions.

In the tables that follow, each Area with its corresponding Standard is identified. This is followed in the left-hand column by a list of the CFRRs that are indicators of excellence to which the institution will respond in its Self-Study.

Next to each CFR in the right-hand column are preferred evidences that serve to document compliance. In some instances, examples for clarity have also been provided. Where appropriate, institutions may provide alternate evidence highlighting strengths of a particular CFR. In the case of alternate evidence, the institution is advised to consult with the General Conference Department of Education prior to the submission of the Self-Study, to verify that the proposed evidence will be deemed applicable and adequate.
In certain Areas, the CFRs call for evidence based on the results of anonymous surveys conducted by the institution with current students, faculty and staff, members of the Board, and/or alumni. These surveys should ask questions regarding perceptions of the effectiveness of the institution in meeting its mission and objectives, among other matters, and should be conducted within one year prior to the date scheduled for the visit.

While the Self-Study and the Site Visit focus on outcomes, it is acknowledged that some of the most important outcomes, such as spiritual commitment and ethical behavior evidenced throughout the life of a graduate, are difficult to measure, and, furthermore, difficult to attribute to a specific part of the student’s educational experience due to the influence of intervening variables. Consequently, inputs and processes are utilized as proxies for such outcomes.

A Self-Study will therefore include, and a Visiting Team will consider, a variety of both direct and indirect indicators to evidence progress and results. These indicators may include quantitative measures (such as an attendance rate or student/teacher ratio) and qualitative evidences (such as individuals’ judgments or perceptions regarding a topic), as well as performance indicators at various stages of the results chain, including inputs, processes, outputs, and impacts. Together, these provide a platform for evidence-based decisions regarding priorities, strategies, activities, and outcomes.

Self-Study Section C

In harmony with the designation of Form B institutions as leaders of excellence within Seventh-day Adventist education, Section C of the Self-Study provides opportunity for the institution to showcase an aspect of its work that the institution has initiated or continued to develop within the period of accreditation that highlights the institution’s commitment to the mission of the Seventh-day Adventist Church and/or the philosophy of Adventist education, particularly as it relates to student learning. Examples of best practice that an institution might wish to showcase include integrating service-learning, high-level thinking, or a healthy lifestyle throughout the curriculum, or developing a "green campus" or physical spaces for social interaction or for spiritual reflection, among other possibilities.

In Section C, the institution will present a report on its chosen area of best practice, utilizing a format of its own choosing, while incorporating reflection based on results and analysis of its impact on student experience. It is anticipated these reports, developed by leading Seventh-day Adventist educational institutions, may serve as models of best practice in Adventist education.

2 At various junctures through Section B, reference is made to the mission and beliefs of the Seventh-day Adventist church and to the philosophy of Adventist education. The mission and beliefs of the Seventh-day Adventist church may be found online at www.adventist.org, as well as in various denominational publications. A document summarizing the philosophy of Adventist education may be found at http://education.gc.adventist.org, at http://adventistaccreditingassociation.org/, as well as in various theme issues of The Journal of Adventist Education (available online at http://www.jae.adventist.org).
Area 1: Mission and Identity

Standard: The institution has a clear sense of Seventh-day Adventist mission and identity, reflected in statements of philosophy, vision, mission, objectives, core values, and ethics, and evidenced in the life of the institution.

| 1.1 The institution has clear and current Board-approved statements of philosophy, vision, mission, and objectives and/or core values, that are congruent with Seventh-day Adventist mission and values, and with the Adventist philosophy of education, and are readily available to constituents, employees, and current and prospective students. | - Published institutional statements of philosophy, vision, mission, objectives, and core values<sup>1a</sup>
- The most recent Board action approving these institutional statements
- A description of the processes of development or revision and approval of the corresponding statements
- An explanation of how these institutional statements share the mission and values of the Church, as well as its philosophy of education<sup>1b</sup>
- A description of how institutional statements are made available to constituents, employees, and current and prospective students |
| 1.2 The institutional statements of philosophy, vision, mission, objectives, and core values are reflected in the policies and procedures of the institution, and in various aspects of institutional life. | - A description of the alignment between institutional statements and the corresponding statements of institutional units
- A representative sample of institutional policies and procedures that operationalize institutional statements
- The profile of desired attributes for all graduates
- Results of surveys of current students, faculty and staff, Board members, and alumni surveys regarding perceptions of the effectiveness of the institution in meeting its mission and objectives |
| 1.3 The institution is actively and broadly involved in supporting the mission of the Seventh-day Adventist Church. | - A description of institutional involvement in and support of the mission of the Church<sup>1c</sup>
- Examples of how the institution’s educational and co-curricular programs prepare students to commit to and participate in the mission of the Church
- Evidence of the active support of church standards and mission by the personal commitment of administrators, faculty, and staff to biblical values and lifestyle
- Examples of a positive relationship between the institution and its local church, conference, union, and/or division
- Examples of how the institution cooperates with other Adventist educational institutions |
1.4 The institution is responsive to the needs of its constituencies, to denominational and national/regional developments, and to societal and educational trends.

- Results from surveys of the needs and expectations of institutional constituencies
- An analysis of key developments within Adventist higher education as these relate to the institution
- An analysis of denominational and local demographics
- A description of the institution’s perceived role and place in denominational and societal contexts
- An analysis of the perceived impact of educational issues and trends in the country/region, with a sample of committee minutes of discussions of current issues and trends
- A description of how the college/university maintains its ethos as an Adventist institution while relating and responding to these issues and trends
- Evidence of institutional success in maintaining both local credibility and denominational focus

1.5 Student experiences and learning outcomes are congruent with the institutional statements of philosophy, vision, mission, objectives, core values, and ethics.

- Results of student and alumni surveys that assess the alignment of experiences while at the institution with the values, beliefs, and priorities embedded in the official statements of the institution
- Results of assessments that determine the extent to which the values, beliefs, and priorities of the institution are reflected in the lives of its graduates and alumni

1.6 The institution has clear, readily available, and current Board-approved statements of professional ethics/code of conduct (including a policy addressing sexual misconduct), congruent with the Adventist philosophy of education, compliance with which is required of all employees and students.

- Institutional codes of ethics/conduct for employees and for students
- A description of the procedure for approval of the codes of ethics/conduct and to ensure alignment with the Adventist philosophy of education
- Explanation of the way compliance is required and ensured of all administrators, faculty, staff, and students

1.7 Plans for development and improvement within this area.

Explanatory notes:

1a Where schools/departments have mission statements, these should also be included. In larger institutions, these statements are expected.

1b Concepts that contribute toward a clear Seventh-day Adventist identity include:

- The nature of God (e.g., as Creator, Sustainer, and Redeemer) and the nature of humankind (e.g., human value and God-given potential)
- The nature of learning (e.g., God as the ultimate Source of knowledge and wisdom)
- The great conflict between good and evil, including the fall, redemption, and restoration
- Whole-person development, including character formation
– The integration of faith, learning, and life
– The role of ethics and aesthetics
– Respect for the environment and for diverse cultures
– Education for this life and for eternity
– Other fundamental beliefs of the Church, including the Sabbath and the Second Coming

Examples of institution involvement and support include:
– Membership and participation of institutional employees in Church organizations and initiatives
– Employee and student involvement in outreach and evangelistic activities of the Church
– Formalized collaborative relationships with other Church entities, including its institutions of higher education

Examples of assessment elements include:
– The experience of a whole-person formation, including physical, intellectual, spiritual, and social dimensions
– Evidences of commitment to a life of witness and service
– Incorporation of a healthy lifestyle
– Active support of the ministry, activities, and ideals of the Seventh-day Adventist Church
Area 2: Spiritual Development, Service, and Witness

Standard: The institution has a coherent and vibrant spiritual life program, encapsulated in a spiritual master plan that widely involves and impacts the institution and its communities.

| 2.3 Students are actively involved in a variety of nurture, service, and witnessing programs. | - Evidence of the involvement of students in developing and implementing the spiritual master plan, as well as in planning nurture, service, and community engagement activities
- Description of the possibilities for student involvement in spiritual activities as participants and as leaders
- Description of how the institution selects student spiritual leaders
- Number of students actively involved in various in-reach and outreach activities, some of which should be student-initiated and developed
- Description of curricular requirements for student involvement in service learning, as well as training and opportunity for witness, including students in any alternative learning modalities
- Evidence of the strength of the student mission program, including short-term evangelistic and outreach experiences, as well as a formal student missionary program
- Student survey responses on the outcomes of spiritual program opportunities |
| 2.4 Campus chaplains and/or the pastor(s) of the campus church exert a significant role in the spiritual formation and life of the students. | - Description of the role that the campus church pastor(s) and/or the chaplain(s) and their associates play in the spiritual development and life of the students
- Job descriptions of the campus chaplains and/or pastor(s) of the campus church
- Description of the selection process for the campus church pastor(s) and/or the chaplain(s), indicating institutional involvement
- Description of the way the chaplaincy ministry of the institution is organized and of student services provided
- Description of the relationship between the campus church(es) and the institution, with evidence provided of collaborative planning and involvement
- Results of formal evaluations of services provided by the chaplain(s) and/or campus church pastor(s) |
2.5 Students experience spiritual development, and a deeper commitment to social responsibility and witness, because of their educational experience at the institution.

- Results of assessments that document the extent to which students experience and graduates/alumni attain spiritual development while at the institution, as well as the factors that may have contributed to or detracted from this development.
- Results of student and alumni surveys that seek to assess the level of participation in service, both while at the institution and after graduation, as well as the development of a personal service ethic.
- Results of student and alumni surveys that assess the level of participation in witness, both while at the institution and after graduation, as well as the development of a worldview in which they see themselves as active witnesses for God.

2.6 Plans for development and improvement within this area.

Explanatory notes:

2a The institutional spiritual master plan should be in harmony with “A Guidebook for Creating and Implementing a spiritual master plan on Seventh-day Adventist Campuses of Higher Education,” available online at the AdventistAccreditingAssociation.org website. At minimum, the spiritual master plan should incorporate:

- A list of beliefs, values, and behavioral outcomes to be conveyed to faculty, staff, and students, based on institutional philosophy, mission, objectives, and/or core values
- A summary of the results from surveys of present status as well as of the spiritual needs of faculty, staff, and students
- A listing of specific objectives for the intentional transmission of Seventh-day Adventist beliefs, principles, values, and lifestyle
- A description of corresponding curricular and co-curricular programs and activities
- A presentation of corresponding action plans, including budget requirements, timelines, and responsibilities

2b Examples of additional supporting evidence which may be included:

- Samples of minutes of the Spiritual Life Committee and other committees that deal with spiritual development
- Samples of survey instruments utilized with faculty, staff, and students
- The plan of spiritual events for the current semester/quarter. This may include devotional and worship opportunities, campus ministry activities, outreach and mission programs, small group interactions, residence hall programming, etc.
- Samples of evaluation instruments used in assessing the effectiveness of the spiritual master plan

2c Examples of the primacy of spiritual development could include:

- Time and physical space set aside for prayer and reflection
- Time dedicated to corporate worship without the imposition of conflicting events

2d Examples of student nurture, service, and community engagement programs may include Bible study groups, drug and alcohol prevention, evangelism, campus ministry retreats, periods of spiritual emphasis, chapels, vespers, church services, Sabbath School, and personal witness.
Examples of elements in the corresponding job descriptions include (a) line of authority and responsibility; (b) purpose of the position; (c) role in the involvement in the development and implementation of the spiritual master plan; and (d) relationships with administration, faculty, staff, students, and denomination, including the Division Chaplaincy Endorsing Department.

Examples of elements that may be incorporated in the assessments of spiritual development include a sense of a deeper relationship with God, of the assurance of salvation, of a Spirit-filled life, of growth in faith, of the need of Bible study and prayer, of the formation of a biblical worldview to guide one’s life, and of a better understanding of and commitment to the beliefs and practices of the Seventh-day Adventist Church.
Area 3: Governance, Organization, and Administration

Standard: The institution has a coherent governance structure, organization, and administrative leadership that provide strong mission-driven direction to the institution.

| 3.1 The Board of Trustees/Council supports the mission of the institution as a reflection of the mission of the Church and seeks to ensure its own commitment to the philosophy of Adventist education. | • Board/Council Bylaws, including matters of authority and responsibility, trustee qualifications and selection
  • Board/Council handbook
  • Board/Council minutes since the prior accreditation visit and records of implementation of actions
  • Current Board/Council membership, including explanations regarding expertise, representation, and compliance with Working Policy regarding denominational membership
  • Board/Council process of induction for new members, particularly in matters pertaining to institutional philosophy, mission, objectives, and core values
  • Board/Council self-evaluation instruments, process, and results |

| 3.2 The Board of Trustees/Council establishes policies that safeguard the Seventh-day Adventist identity and mission of the institution. | • Constitution and bylaws of the institution, with an explanation of how these documents safeguard Adventist identity and mission, and evidence alignment with denominational Working Policy
  • Documents that define the relationship of the institution to other entities (e.g., the Church, government, accrediting bodies, and educational institutions, including affiliations and extensions), with an evaluation of each to institutional mission
  • Board/Council policies regarding the hiring and evaluation of administration, and Board/Council accepted performance indicators of the same
  • Board/Council policies regarding faculty and staff hiring and renewal practices, and Board/Council accepted performance indicators of the same
  • Board/Council policies regarding instruction that is in harmony with the vision, mission, and values of the institution and Board/Council accepted performance indicators of the same
  • Board/Council approved goals related to spiritual mission and Board/Council accepted performance indicators of the same |
3.3 The institution's administrative team provides effective leadership to achieve the institutional mission and a clear Adventist identity.

- Job descriptions for top-level administrators
- A description of the process, with sample instruments, for performance appraisals and self-evaluations of top-level administrators, especially relating to the mission of the institution and of the Church
- Examples of the support of institutional mission and Adventist identity by top-level administrators

3.4 The organizational structure of the institution facilitates the fulfillment of mission.

- Organizational and committee charts
- A listing of all administrative staff and responsibilities
- An explanation of how the institution fulfills the expectation that all leadership positions are filled by individuals who are regular members of the Seventh-day Adventist Church
- A listing of all campus-wide committees, giving their membership, terms of reference, frequency of meetings, and inter-relationships
- An explanation of how key committees relate to the planning processes of the institution, including spiritual life
- A description of how organizational structure facilitates the fulfillment of institutional mission

3.5 The administration develops a Board-approved strategic plan that furthers institutional mission and is responsive to the constituent needs in the context of societal and educational trends.

- The long-range strategic plan for the institution
- An explanation of how the strategic plan was developed, was communicated to faculty, staff, and constituents, and is periodically updated
- A description of how the institutional strategic plan is guided by institutional mission, is based on an analysis of constituent needs, as well as institutional strengths, weaknesses, opportunities, and threats, and is developed within the framework of institutional philosophy and values
- A representative sample of detailed, mid-range plans for institutional development and improvement, particularly those which directly contribute to mission
- Recent reports of administration to the Board of Trustees/Council regarding implementation of the strategic plan
3.6 The Board/Council and the administration evaluate the success of the institution, particularly in fulfilling its identity and mission as a Seventh-day Adventist institution.

- A description of the continuous quality improvement and assurance of educational and management processes as evidenced through outcomes
- A description of the processes in place for assessing institutional effectiveness, especially regarding the success of the institution in fulfilling its mission as an Adventist institution, with examples of how this feedback is used in institutional planning
- Examples of Board/Council evaluation of the institution’s Church-related mission, including the results of the most recent assessment
- Results from institutional research assessing the fulfillment of institutional identity and mission, including internal and external constituencies as well as current students and recent graduates
- Samples of institutional reports provided to internal and external stakeholders, particularly those relating to institutional identity and mission

3.7 Plans for development and improvement within this area.

Explanatory notes:

3a The strategic plan of the institution (at least 5 years, ideally with a dynamic window to the future updated annually) should be the result of campus-wide conversations involving faculty and staff, first in selecting the core values that the institution wishes to convey, and then in identifying strategic means of attaining these values. The strategic plan should include supporting documents for student enrollment projections, spiritual life development, financial resources, academic programs, faculty and staff, and infrastructure.
Area 4: Programs of Study

- A description of how the beliefs, values, and lifestyle practices of the Church are conveyed through the programs of study
- A description of how the institution prepares graduates for service in the Church as employees and lay members
- A representative sample of program outcomes or graduate profiles linked to institutional mission, objectives, and/or core values
- A representative sample of course objectives linked to institutional objectives and/or core values
- A description of how any alternative learning modalities, including distance education and web-based technology, fulfill institutional mission and integrate its core values, while also contributing toward fulfilling the mission of the Church and integrating its beliefs and values
- Results from student/alumni evaluations of programs of study that assess effectiveness in transmitting both institutional mission, objectives, and values, as well as the mission and beliefs of the Church, and evidence that results inform curriculum development and revision, with evidence that results inform curriculum development and revision
- Results from denominational employers that assess institutional effectiveness in meeting the needs of the Church, and evidence that results inform curriculum development and revision |
4.2 The institution demonstrates the implementation of the Seventh-day Adventist philosophy of education and the meaningful integration of faith and learning throughout all disciplines and all course delivery modalities.

- A description of curricular development and evaluation procedures that focus on the integration of faith and learning and seek the salvation of the student
- A description of procedures that encourage faculty members to approach their discipline from a biblical perspective, throughout all teaching modalities
- A representative sample of course syllabi, required readings, teaching materials, learning activities, and evaluations that illustrate the integration of a biblical worldview,\(^{4a}\) throughout all teaching modalities
- A description of ways in which the curriculum promotes whole-person development, including physical, mental, spiritual, social, emotional, and vocational dimensions
- Examples of ways in which the curriculum prepares the student for a life of witness and service
- Examples of ways in which the curriculum contributes toward character formation
- Examples of ways in which the curriculum emphasizes high-level thinking, including application of knowledge, analysis, decision-making, and creative thought and innovation
- Results from student evaluations of courses that assess effectiveness in the integration of faith and learning
- Results from student and alumni evaluations of programs of study that assess effectiveness in achieving aspects of the Adventist philosophy of education

4.3 The institution fulfills IBE/IBMTE processes regarding new programs of study and substantive changes to existing programs of study.

- Documentation of institutional fulfillment of IBE/IBMTE processes regarding new programs of study and substantive changes to existing programs of study

4.4 The institution fulfills the AAA expectation regarding the inclusion of religion courses in the various programs of study.

- Documentation that students have met the stated religion requirement in all programs of study, in all modalities offered\(^{4b}\)
- Course descriptions for the religion courses utilized in the various programs of study

4.5 Plans for development and improvement within this area.

Explanatory notes:

\(^{4a}\) Examples of integrational elements include an understanding of:
- God as the Source of all truth
- The role of revelation, reason, research, and reflection in the understanding of divine truth
- The foundational role of Scripture in each discipline
- The great controversy between good and evil and how this affects each aspect of life
- The elements and formation of a Christian life and worldview
The moral ethical dimensions of issues within each discipline and the role of biblical principles and values

Other integrational elements may be found in the “Statement of Philosophy,” available online at adventistaccreditingassociation.org, as well in essays provided by the Institute of Christian Teaching (ict.adventist.org) and articles on the topic published by The Journal of Adventist Education (jae.adventist.org).

4b The AAA expectation for religion courses in all programs is as follows:

- Undergraduate: Every teacher is encouraged and expected to integrate faith with the discipline in all courses. Three semester (four quarter) credits of religion courses are required for each year of full-time study for a minimum of 12 semester (18 quarter) credits for a four-year degree or 3 semester (4.5 quarter) credits for every 32 semester (48 quarter) credits. Half of the credits must be based on study of the Bible.

- Graduate: Every teacher is encouraged and expected to integrate faith with the discipline in all courses. Two semester (three quarter) credits of graduate-level religion/theology courses are required for each year of full-time study (or the equivalent). At least one course must be based on study of the Bible. These required courses may introduce new material at a graduate level or examine previous knowledge and attitudes so that understanding is reconsidered and synthesized in light of new learning, and accepted practices undergo the rigor of the thoughtful analysis. Team-taught courses in which disciplinary knowledge is combined with religion/theology are acceptable (e.g., business ethics, religion and medicine) but the prefix and primary oversight must come from the religion/theology department. Institution may adopt variable structures and provide evidence of attainment of student learning outcomes and content mastery otherwise covered through the inclusion of specific religion/theology coursework.
Area 5: Faculty and Staff

Standard: The institution has a faculty and staff personally supportive of the institutional mission, effective in their transmission of Seventh-day Adventist beliefs and biblical values in the classroom, along with administrative processes to ensure adequate faculty and staff development, and evaluation procedures that include mission-focused elements.

• Examples of employment contracts redacted to maintain confidentiality, with an explanation of how these convey the expectation of support of the institutional mission and values, and respect for the beliefs and practices of the Seventh-day Adventist Church
• A statistical table providing religious affiliation of administrators, faculty, and staff, disaggregated by full-time/salary and part-time/temporary contract status, and including an analysis of trends over time |
5.2 The institution’s policies and procedures for faculty and staff orientation and development encourage and strengthen faculty support for the mission of the institution and of the Seventh-day Adventist church.

- The institutional statement of academic freedom and responsibility
- The institutional grievance policy
- The institution’s policies and procedures for faculty and staff orientation
- Evidence that orientation content contributes to a better understanding of the mission and values of the institution and of the mission and beliefs of the Church
- The institution’s policies and procedures for faculty and staff development, including faculty/staff in any alternative learning modalities
- Recent examples of ways in which the professional development experiences have contributed to a better understanding of the philosophy of Adventist education and the integration of faith and learning
- Results from faculty and staff assessments of institution-initiated professional development

5.3 Faculty and staff are effective in their roles as professionals and role models in a Seventh-day Adventist educational institution.

- A description of how faculty convey to students the mission, beliefs, and values of the institution and of the Church
- The institution’s policies and procedures for evaluation of faculty and staff, including in any alternative learning modalities
- A description of the overall system for the evaluation of faculty and of staff, including sample instruments encompassing teaching, research, mentoring, and participation in co-curricular activities, as relevant
- A description of ways in which the institution integrates institutional and denominational mission, beliefs, and values in faculty and staff evaluation
- A description of how results from faculty and staff assessments by students are used to enhance their effectiveness as professionals in an Adventist educational institution
- A description of how results from faculty and staff assessments by peers and/or supervisors are used to enhance effectiveness as professionals in an Adventist educational institution
- A description of the involvement of faculty and staff in local and wider church activities and responsibilities
- A listing of the scholarly research and publications of the faculty since the prior accreditation visit
- An explanation of how faculty service and research activities support institutional and Church mission
5.4 The institution fulfills the AAA expectation regarding the qualifications of faculty who teach religion courses in the various programs of study.

- A table identifying qualifications of faculty who teach religion courses in the various programs of study, including that they hold current ecclesiastical endorsement by IBMTE if teaching at least half time.

5.5 Plans for development and improvement within this area.

Explanatory notes:

5a Examples of related documents that can be provided include:
- The institutional statement of professional conduct
- Institutional policies and criteria regarding termination of employment
- Institutional grievance policies and procedures
- Samples of faculty and staff statements of philosophy and/or worldview

5b Aspects that may be incorporated in student assessments of faculty and staff include:
- Evidencing positive relationships with students, including mentor and role models
- Taking a personal interest in each student
- Communicating appreciation for the value and potential of the student
- Communicating confidence in divine revelation through the Bible
- Demonstrating biblical norms of conduct and an Adventist lifestyle
- Seeking opportunities to converse about spiritual matters and to guide the student to a personal encounter with Christ
- Helping the student develop a personal sense of mission

5c The AAA expectation is as follows:
- Undergraduate: All courses must be taught by a member of the religion/theology department who has a minimum of a master's degree in the discipline or a master's degree and 12 semester (18 quarter) graduate credits in theology/religion. Institutions may adopt variable structures and provide evidence of attainment of student learning outcomes and content mastery otherwise covered through the inclusion of specific religion/theology coursework. Institutions are responsible for justifying and documenting the qualifications of its faculty, including adjunct faculty.

- Graduate: All courses must be taught by a member of the religion/ theology department who preferably has an earned doctoral degree in the discipline or a master's degree and 18 semester (27 quarter) graduate credits in theology/religion. Team-taught courses in which disciplinary knowledge is combined with religion/ theology are acceptable (e.g., business ethics, religion and medicine) but the prefix and primary oversight must come from the religion/theology department. Institution may adopt variable structures and provide evidence of attainment of student learning outcomes and content mastery otherwise covered through the inclusion of specific religion/theology coursework. Institutions are responsible for justifying and documenting the qualifications of its faculty, including adjunct faculty.
Area 6: Educational Context

- A list and brief description of student publications, including frequency and circulation

- A description of the policies and procedures regarding institutional advisement and supervision of student-sponsored or coordinated publications

6.8 Plans for development and improvement within this area.

Explanatory notes:

6a Examples of financial GC Working Policies include:
  - Working capital (i.e., current assets above the total of current liabilities) should equal or exceed 20 percent of the operating expense, or, for interim statements, the latest 12-month actual operating expense of the latest complete fiscal year
  - Liquidity—cash and bank plus securities and investments divided by total current liabilities and gross/certain allocated funds (see GC Working Policy S 25 73)
  - Use of the tithe in educational institutions (GC Working Policy V 14 15)

6b Examples of ways in which financial priorities reflect mission may include:
  - Financial programs and policies provide opportunity for a greater proportion of Seventh-day Adventist young people who desire to receive an Adventist education to attend
  - Financial programs and policies provide the means for a whole-person educational perspective, by means of a funded work-study program
  - Service, witness, and spiritual life programs are adequately funded

6c Aspects which might be presented include the following:
  - Examples of spaces for worship, for reflection, for physical activity, for collaborative learning, etc.
  - Examples of how the physical plant reflects the stewardship of resources (e.g., ecological facilities, recycling efforts)
  - Examples of aesthetic elements and décor throughout the campus that contribute to a sense of mission and/or Adventist identity
  - Examples of the use of natural settings as educational contexts
Examples of student services which would typically be addressed include, among others:
- Residence halls
- Cafeteria
- Recreational facilities
- Health/wellness services
- Student counseling programs (e.g., career, spiritual, therapeutic, substance abuse)
- Placement services
- Student clubs and activities

It may be helpful to include a representative sample of materials utilized in advertising and student recruitment, accompanied by an explanation of how these convey the institution’s philosophy and core values.

Specific policies that could be discussed may include the following:
- Policies regarding intellectual property with an explanation of how these reflect the core values of the institution
- Policies regarding a student’s right to privacy with an explanation of how these reflect the biblical view of human beings
- Policies and procedures that promote student self-governance with an explanation of how this concept operates within the Adventist ethos of the institution
- Policies for accessing electronic media, including procedures in the case of an abuse of policies, accompanied by an explanation of how these reflect Adventist identity and the mission of the institution
- Policies that relate to student misconduct with an explanation of how these reflect a redemptive and transformational approach
Area 7: Pastoral and Theological Education

Standard: The institution has pastoral and theological education with a curriculum that is of an equivalent standard to other tertiary institutions offering pastoral and theological education within the Seventh-day Adventist college/university sector, and that meets the mission and objectives of the institution and church, particularly in the preparation of students for denominational service.

7.12 Plans for development and improvement within this area.

Explanatory notes:

7a Examples of evaluation system components:
- Student assessments
- Feedback from peers and from leadership
- Measures of graduate satisfaction/success
- Assessment of mentoring pastors
- Faculty plans for improvement

7b While placement refers principally to formal employment by the church for graduates to become a church pastor (or intern), placement may also apply to those graduates who join supporting ministries or become volunteers.
